

Emma Hyslop-Webb, 42
GBR

Emma Hyslop-Webb (42) is a British rider based in Leicestershire who made her Burghley debut in 2017.

Emma learned to ride at a young age and honed her riding skills on the hunting field where her mother ran a busy hunter hireling operation. It was Emma's job to ensure the horses were competent jumpers.

Emma worked in sales before pursuing her passion for horses as a career in 2009. Her parents now own Vale View Equestrian, an established equestrian centre in the heart of the Leicestershire countryside.

Emma trains with Chris Bartle, Ian and Amy Woodhead and competes in showjumping alongside eventing.

Jweetwel (Dexter R-Biphyn (Special D)), known at home as Huey is a 10-year-old, 16.1hh Dutch-bred gelding. Defender Burghley 2024 will be his five-star debut.
