GBR

Gemma Stevens, 39, is a British Olympic rider based in West Sussex. Gemma is an accomplished equestrian who competes in both eventing and showjumping.

Gemma relocated to Tattleton in 2009 from the riding school and livery yard, Hylands Yard, owned by her mother. She started riding at 18 months old and by the age of eight had started to win in dressage and eventing. She passed her Pony Club A test and was a member of the British junior squad. In 2003 she took the ride on Jesters Quest and the following year the pair won the National Under 21 championship, adding Young Rider team gold medals in 2005 and 2006. In 2007 the pair made its four-star debut completing both Badminton and Burghley. In 2009 she was given the ride on Kings Gem with who she won the Under 25 championship the following year. Gemma represented Great Britain in the 2016 Rio Olympic Games and was part of the gold medal winning team at the World Games in Tryon 2018.

Gemma (nee Tattersall) trains with Ian Woodhead and Dickie Waygood. In June 2022 she married Gary Stevens.

Chilli Knight (Chilli Morning-Kings Gem (Phantomic XX)) is a 14-year-old British-bred gelding who has had a successful career across the levels with Gemma. He was bred by Christopher Stone. In 2021 the pair won the CCI5* at Bicton – Gemma's first five-star win.
